Comodoro Rivadavia in the biggest city of the Chubut Province framed by beautiful landscape that combines plateaus and hills next to the beaches bathed by the Argentine sea, San Jorge Gulf. It is located at 61 metres on the level of sea, to 45° 47' South latitude and 67° 30' West longitude.

As a reference, it is 1850 kilometres south way far from DC. It is the most important City of southern Patagonia, by its commercial and productive activity. It was founded on February 1901 by Italian immigrant Francesco Pietrobelli. Nowadays it has approximately 280.000 residents. The "Chenque" hill of 212 metres height, offers a spectacular panorama of the City and the Argentine sea.

Its weather is dry, summer temperatures, from December to March, goes, on average, between 13° to 24° centigrade. The wind blows at 32 kilometres per hour, in average, predominating that coming from West quadrant. The original settler called the wind "Koshkil". Thanks to "Koshkil" the present windmills, more than 26, generate non-polluting and renewable Aeolian energy for the whole City. We hope that "Koshkil", helps us to enjoy the acrobatic kite flying, buggy and sail car forever.

Specially, Comodoro Rivadavia will be the host city of the next 11° World-wide Championship of Sail Car 2008, which will take place at "Rada Tilly" beach. (further information available on this site. We will be there too, in that Mega Festival.

Nowadays, we are making this activities:

We are participating as advisors and giving training programs. We are helped by the media that makes people know and get their interest in kite flying. Luckily, it works perfectly! Lot of people were participating in teaching flight, making kites, mainly organized by "Anahi" Foundation.

There were other activities that generate special interest and expectation like Freestyle, Multiple Kite Flying, Indoor and Buggy demonstrations that we make.

Dear Kitelife reader, have you ever flown on Dinosaurs land? Have you had that privilege? If your answer is no, I invite you to enjoy an astonishing experience flying kites on this land...you cannot loose it. So, feel something different, do something different and you will be different...

See you soon,
